NOTES

You can make a chicken traybake instead of using the BBQ if preferred! Add some sweet potato, cherry tomatoes, capsicum, zucchini or red onion to a large oven tray with the chicken drumsticks and corn cobbettes. Bake in oven with seasoning of choice and serve with kaleslaw on the side.

This dish can be transformed into a more Asian style dish. Marinate the chicken with soy sauce and honey and toss the kaleslaw with a sesame and lime dressing. Toss some cooked vermicelli noodles through the slaw to make a noodle salad.

1. COOK THE CHICKEN

Heat a BBQ or griddle over medium-high heat (see tip). Slash chicken drumsticks to the bone and coat with seasoning of choice, oil, salt and pepper. Cook for 15–20 minutes, turning occasionally, or until cooked through.

TIP You can cook the chicken in the oven at 250°C for 20–25 minutes if preferred. Cajun, Mexican or Peri Peri spice mixes are great for flavouring the drumsticks or you can use a marinade of choice. We used 2 tbsp cajun spice mix, salt and oil.

2. COOK THE CORN

Remove husks and silks from corn cobs and coat with oil. Cook on the BBQ (same time as chicken if possible), turning until charred.

TIP The corn can be boiled or cooked in the oven instead. Combine crushed garlic, ground spice or lime zest with butter and melt over the cooked corn to serve. Remove the corn kernels and toss through the salad if preferred.

3. PREPARE THE KALESRAW

Meanwhile, toss kaleslaw with aioli until coated. Set aside in the fridge until serving.

TIP You can add sliced apple, pear or cucumber for crunch. Toasted nuts or seeds also add texture. Add some lime or lemon juice for a different flavour or use a pre-made dressing of choice instead of the aioli.

4. FINISH AND SERVE

Cut corn into cobbettes and serve with chicken drumsticks and kaleslaw.
